

Building Committee Update:

Over the past few months, there has been a groundswell of community interest in the Borough Hall Project. In order to capture that interest and to continue to strive to get our community the building it deserves, I have tasked three of our Council members to lead a team of dedicated volunteers and professionals to make this project happen on time, in a fiscally responsible manner and with a building(s) that we all can be proud of.

Beth Nelson, Chris Nelson and Lance White will lead this team. Beth will head up the design and building portion, Chris will head the communications portion and Lance will work on making sure that the structure and future buildings all work within a long range plan. Dedicated volunteers will work with our Council members to ensure that we remain laser focused on making this project happen. Once the working groups are formed, we will communicate specifics on their goals, structure and membership. We will also continue to leverage the professionals associated with this project: Dan Lynch, Bob Sibilica, our very capable Borough staff and any other professionals needed to make this project a reality.

The team will be meeting in the very near future to hash out strategies, establish timelines/project deliverables and to make sure that everyone knows where we are going and the various steps that will take us there.

Please stay tuned to the Borough website, Council meetings and the Mantoloking Reporter for future information.

Sincerely,

George
