Mayor White presented Councilwoman Lynn O'Mealia with a plaque for her service to the Borough and noted the following:

- Encouraged him to run for Mayor
- Instrumental in accomplishing many things in the last several years
- Council President 2022
- Chair of the Legal Administrative Committee
- Flood Committee Report
- Chair of Strategic Planning Committee
- Member of Public Safety Committee
- Liaison for Long Range Planning
- Liaison to Environmental Commission
- Instrumental with running meetings with Freehold IT
- Accreditation for Police Department
- Cotter Report introduced and followed up on

She has been an important part of the governing body and we owe her a great debt of gratitude. Several council members also commended Councilwoman O'Mealia for her work on digitizing records, being a mentor and a catalyst for getting things done.

Councilwoman O'Mealia is very proud of what the governing body has accomplished with the help of finance. She is hopeful that the next Cotter Report provides a blueprint and that the members of council and incoming members provide their insight.

PUBLIC COMMENT- On agenda items only

Joann Lygas, 970 Barnegat Lane, echoed what has been said regarding Councilwoman O'Mealia. A force to bring about a lot of changes and should be commended for that.

Monmouth County towns are introducing ordinances about convicts, fines, jail time.

Borough Attorney Cipriani advised that those are invalid. When you are convicted of a criminal offense, the sentence that you receive is the sentence that you received. Municipalities lack the ability to add on additional sentence. Councilman Nelson noted that he believed something was introduced at a state level.
