A. REVIEW OF REGULAR MEETING AGENDA

B. BOROUGH COUNCIL DISCUSSION ITEMS FOR NEXT MONTHS AGENDA.

1. JCP&L Update- John Meehan, Area Manager

Mayor White introduced John Meehan

- Produced a 12 month outage report for Mantoloking
- Mantoloking is fed by two different substations- south side just north of the bridge from that point south to the end of Mantoloking would be the Mantoloking substation on Route 35. From just north of the bridge up to the north end of Mantoloking is fed out of the Point Pleasant Substation which is on Ocean Avenue.
- Point Pleasant substation has been more troublesome, so the residents in the northern part of town would have experienced more outages.

- Two types of outages Transmission and distribution
- Lightning strikes cause a static line.
- When a static line and transmission line go down that serves the substation, all customers on that circuit are affected
- There is not much they can do regarding lightning strikes besides fortify the equipment with protective lighting arresters.
- They have experienced many lightning strikes in the past
- Mantoloking Substation had less outages in the south of town, no large outages in July.
- Based on the numbers he will have individual reports run for homes that will show every outage and try to figure out what it is that is causing it.

There was a question regarding notifications. Mr. Meehan explained there are planned outages and forced outages. Planned outage is when a repair needs to be done. When planned in advance robocall goes out to all customers on that circuit during that time.

The was a question regarding placing all of Mantoloking on the substation at the Bridge and why are some tied to Point Pleasant substation.

Mantoloking substation named that because of its location, it wasn't built and designed just for half of Mantoloking. It is feeding Mantoloking and Brick as well. If they switched all Mantoloking, they run the risk of overloading the circuit. It's not the equipment that is failing causing these outages, it has been contact with the lighting strikes.

The engineering team mandated by the BPU each year has to go through circuit sweeps. After any major event or once a year they walk every circuit and mark down anything that looks like it could be troublesome. They also address the worst performing circuits. This is not one of them.

Borough Administrator, Brett Radi, asked if JCPL has any short term or long-term capital improvements or infrastructure improvements plans for the borough. He also asked if the equipment that is here serving the borough is it as modern as can be the infrastructure that is here is adequate to service.

Mr. Meehan advised that there are no borough specific projects and that they are not experiencing equipment failure in the substation in Mantoloking. They have had quite a bit of transmission trips because of the lightning in the area.

After hurricane Sandy JCP&L made a pledge, they would upgrade the barrier island and a question was raised if the equipment had been updated. Mr. Meehan explained that post sandy JCPL committed to fortifying the infrastructure on the barrier island. Repaired poles, transformers were moved out to the street. The three substations on the island Ocean Beach, Ortley Beach and Mantoloking were all fixed with flood mitigation. System put in that allows access in and out of substations but during high tide or tidal surge we can close the gate and provide another 4 feet of elevation protection in the substations.

A question was raised regarding moving utilities underground and was that considered. Mr. Meehan advised that would be a massive undertaking, due to the salt water and high-water table. The cost becomes the issue.

Mr. Meehan noted that sometimes there is a crew on site and they are not working. They are waiting for an all clear from the distribution control center before they can work. They cannot work in the air if the wind is 40 mph, unless for life and limb.

A request was made of Mr. Meehan to provide standard top ten questions, frequently asked questions and what are transmission vs distribution outages.
